

- I believe that until it is verified that cell phones DO NOT interfere with navigational instruments, they do not need to be used onboard.
- Possible that cell phones can be used negatively by terrorists to carry out hijackings etc.
- Flight Attendants have their hands full currently with the job of maintaining a safe, secure cabin environment and in the case of emergency conducting emergency evacuations, please don't burden them further with the task of policing onboard cell phone usage.
- Let the cabin be a place of peace and quiet. There is nothing so important to talk about or worth the risk of leaving our passengers and our flight attendants at risk.

Please keep our skies under control and peaceful for the benefit of passengers, employees, in the interest of safe flights.

Thank you.
